peace plan. Mubarak's proposal envisages a six-mooth moratorium on violence by Palestinians in the occupied lands in return for an Israeli commitment to halt Jewisb settlements there and to agree to an international conference on the Middle East.

Split

The conference proposal has split the Israeli government. Shamir, the leader of the rightwiog Likud bloc, opposes a con-ference. His Foreign Minister, Shimon Peres of the Labour Party, favours such a meeting.

The United States accepts the priociple of a conference but says the meeting should not bave powers to determine a regional settlement and should lead instead to direct negotiations bet-ween Israel and Jordan.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli officials said today it bad placed 129 Palestinians in administrative detention without trial since an portsing flared in the West Ban and Gaza Strip on Dec 9.

The controversial practice, left over from the pre-1948 British mandate in Palestine, allows the Defence Minister or a senior military commander to jail a suspect by administrative order for up to six months without due process of law. An Army spokesman said a further 1,753 Palestinians were still under arrest, including 577 who have been sentenced to jail terms by military courts during the seven weeks of unrest.

Detention

The spokesman said 111 Palestinians had been placed in administrative detention in the West Bank and 18 in the Gaza Strip during that period.

It was the biggest wave of detentions for many years.

The practice, reviewed by Defence Minister Yitzhak Rabin in 1985, has been condemned by Amnesty International and other human rights organisations on grounds that the accused are not allowed to see evidence against them nor respond to charges. The disclosure came after Israeli leaders postponed the controversial deportation of five more Palestinian activists to avoid rekindling riots and (Continued on Page 2) people, medical experts say.

The findings, reported in the New Eogland Journal of Medicine, weredue to be released today but details leaked out beforehand and news organisations published the results ahead of the release time.

The physicians' health study group, sponsored by the National Institutes of Health chose 22,071 healthy US male doctors between the ages of 40 and 84 to take a 350-milligram aspirin, supplied by Bristol-Myers Co., or a placebo every other day.

After almost five years of follow-up, the researchers found that the total number of beart attacks among doctors taking the aspirin was 47 per cent lower than those taking the placebo. The risk of all types of heart disease dropped by 23 per cent. The findings "will be regarded as a milestone in the continuing struggle against myocardial infarction (heart attack)," wrote Dr Arnold Relman, editor of the journal, in an accompanying

"So clear an effect of aspirin on the incidence of myocardial infarction is unlikely to be explained by methodological error," he said.

The steering committee of the physicians' health study group, affiliated with Boston's Brigham and Women's Hospital and Harvard Medical School, said the results were so positive that it decided in December to end the study three years early and report its findings as soon as possible. Little progress in Iraq-Syria relations

JAMADI AL-THANI 9-10, 1408 AH

AMMAN, Jan 27, (AP): Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz said there has been no recent progress in efforts to improve his country's relations with Syria, a newspaper reported today.

A Palestinian youth huris a stone, using a large sling, towards israell soldiers outside occupied

"There is oothing new on this topic," Azizwas quoted as telling the daily Al Dustour in 20 interview conducted on Monday. He also criticised Syrian efforts to mediate between Iran and Arab states.

Jordan's King Hussein has led efforts to reconcile the neighbouring Arab states, and during last November's Arab summit in Amman, Jordaniao officials announced the start of Syrianlraqi rapprochement. The summit leaders joined in an expression of support for Iraq and a demand that Iran accept a ceasefire in its war with Iraq.

"There was a dialogue between the Iraqi and Syrian leadership in Amman's summit ... on basis of establishing normal relations," Aziz was quoted as say-

He said bases for the relationship were to include "the summit's resolutions, Arab League agreements and the joint Arab Defence Pact," which calls for Arab states to go to the aid of others under attack.

Aziz was quoted as saying Hussein's mediation efforts "resulted in a meeting between (Iraq) President Saddam Hussein and Syrian President Hafez Assad last April," and another meeting between Aziz and his

Syrian counterpart, Farouq Al

"What is needed now is to stick to Amman's summit resolu-tions," he added, according to

He also criticised Syrian efforts to broker talks between Iran and Gulf Arab states, aimed at reducing war-related threats against them and eventually to eoding the war.

"Nobody has asked Syria's mediation with Iran," Aziz was quoted as saying.

Refusing

He reportedly said Iran "has violated the will of the inter-national community" by refus-ing to accept United Nations Security Council resolution 598 demanding a ceasefire, "and the guilty party knows that Iran is an enemy regime."

"Practically, Iran is attacking Iraq in efforts to occupy more lands and threaten the oavigation io the Gulf. Therefore. claiming mediation is not a workable solution." Saddam, in an interview published yesterday, also criticised Syrian contacts with Iran, although he said be did not object to

New escalation in tanker war

MANAMA, Jan 27, (Agencies): Iraqi warplanes slammed an Exocet missile into a Cypriot tanker loaded with Iranian oil in a pre-dawn attack today and reportedly returned nine hours later to raid another unidentified

Tehran claims it manufactures Silkworm missiles

BEIJING, Jan 27, (AP): Iran's Ambassador to China claimed today that his country now man-ufactures its own Silkworm missiles, copying the Chinese design from Silkworms allegedly from

Ambassador Alaeddin Broujerdi told a news conference that Iran needs no advice or aid from China, the original maker of Silkworms, in its production. "This attests to the fact that long years of war bring about creativity in every country, Broujerdi said. "It is very natural that we don't need any advice from other countries."

Iran, which has been fighting traq since September 1980, has used the portable surface-to-surface missiles in several attacks on Kuwaiti ships and installations in recent months.

Refused

The United States accuses China of selling Iran the missiles, a charge both China and Iran deny. Iran said last October that it obtained the missiles by capturing them in battle from Iraq.

Broujerdi did not say when Iran began manufacturing the missiles and refused to give other details, such as the number produced.

He declined to corroborate his claim with evidence such as photographs of the manufacturing facility because "we are a country at war, and all the military affairs of such a country are confidential."

US officials, bowever, say that sbips carrying Chinese-made Silkworms have embarked for Iran from North Korea this month. The United States has imposed limited sanctions agains1 China for the alleged US officials said on Monday China was to rejoin Cuba, the Soviet Union and Vietnam on a list of 30 countries and areas with interests considered adverse to those of the United States.

Hostile "We believe that listing China as a bostile country contradicts the position that the United States government has stated officially and openly on many occasions," the Chinese spokeswoman told a weekly news briefing.

Inclusion on the list means Chinese who become US citizens are denied security clearance for five years after naturalisation.

China had been classified as "bostile" for many years until 1987, when its name was iocorrectly deleted from the regulation, the Defence Department said yesterday. Broujerdi also said he was confident that neither China nor the Soviet Union would agree to any proposal in the UN Security Council to impose sanctions against Iran. The United States bas pressed for international sanctions, accusing Iran of failing to cooperate with UN peace efforts.

"It is very obvious that China is not a country that is sensitive to pressure from the United States," be said.

Ershad defends police shooting as routine action

ROME, Jan 27, (Agencies): President Hossain Mohammad Ershad of Bangladesh yesterday defended the shooting deaths of 13 anti-government demon-strators by police as routine action against vandals.

He derided opposition demands that he resign as "wishful thinking"

Ershad, in Rome to attend the conference of the International Fund for Agricultural Development, pledged to go ahead with March 3 parliamentary elections despite a boycott by the mainstream opposition parties.

"If they have thousands of supporters, I have millions," the former Army general said at a news conference. "I tell you one thing with great emphasis: they will never come to an election against me because they can never win the election.

The main opposition parties in Bangladesh began a series of strikes and protest rallies in November to demand the ouster of Ershad, who seized power in a coup in 1982.

Refuses

The opposition refuses to participate in the March 3 polls, saying the vote would be rigged in favour of Ershad's Jatiya Party. They demand he resign and let a neutral caretaker government run the elections.

The anti-government campaign is led by Sheikh Hasina of the Awami League and Begum Khaleda Zia of the Bangladesh Nationalist Party, who together lead an alliance of 21 opposition

On Sunday, police in Chit-tagong opened fire at the end of a rally led by Sheikh Hasina. At least 13 people were reported killed. But opposition leaders claimed 17 were shot dead.

In his first public comment on the incident, Ershad blamed the violence on vandals and supported the police action.

"Nobody is allowed to do vandalism, burn and destroy public property, loot shops and commercial establishments," he said. 'So police has taken the normal measures. It is nothing political."

The 57-year-old President defended his decision to travel to Rome at a time of serious political unrest.

Demands

"There is nothing critical in Bangladesh," he said. "The developing countries always have this. We have come in live with it. The strikes, protest meetings, agitations, — it keeps them (the opposition) going."

He firmly reiterated his refusal to bow to demands for his resignation before the election.

In Dhaka officials said today that Bangladesh's Deputy Prime Minister, Shah Moazzem Hossain, was assured of electoral victory more than a month before the polls because no opposition filed nomination papers.

On the basis of death rates of US white men with the same age distribution, the researchers said 733 cardiovascular deaths would have been expected, whereas only 88 confirmed in the study group during the first 4.8 years of follow-up.

Relman cautioned that the results did not necessarily justify the widespread use of aspirin for the primary prevention of heart to aspirin. The trial results provide good reason to consider using aspirin in patients meeting those criteria. but they do not demonstrate the value and safety of aspirin in the general population," he said.

Reduce There have been six earlier studies of the links between aspirin and the reduced risk of heart disease, but none were as extensive as the physicians' health study. Doctors believe that aspirin may reduce the risk of heart attack hy reducing the hlood's ability to clot.

MESSAGE TO SHAREHOLDERS

INVESTCORP's net income for the twelve months ended December 31, 1987 was $28.8 million, an increase of 89.9% over 1986. Accordingly, our Firm has achieved record earnings in every year since its inception. The Return on Average Shareholders Funds in 1987 was 22.9%: the Return on Paid Share Capital was 28.8%; the Return on Average Assets was 5.9%. As a result of this performance, the Board of Directors has recommended the payment of a $15 million

As a result of this performance, the moard of Directors has recommended the payment of a $10 minion dividend, if approved by the shareholders, this will be the fifth consecutive year a cash dividend of

As INVESTCORP has completed its fifth year of operation, it is an appropriate time to reflect upon world where instability and uncertainty prevail, adherence to these principles will strengthen and distinguish this process of direction world where instability and uncertainty prevail, adherence to these principles will suddistinguish INVESTCORP from firms with less clurity and confidence of direction.

Our first guiding principle is to recognize that our husiness is people driven and that it requires the Our first guiding principle is to recognize, that our massness is people oriven and that it requires the highest level of professionalism, expertise, commitment and teamwork from each of us. Accordingly, inguest rever or professionansm. experiese, communicing and teamwork from each of us, executaingly, we devote substantial effort to the selection and development of our staff and in our corporate culture.

Our second principle is to preserve our place as a leading pan-Arabian Gulf investment bank and a preferred home for professionally managed investment capital from investors in the Gulf countries. These investors, most of whom have been loyal supporters of INVESTCORP from its inception, provide a committed source of capital, both for our Firm and its investments. Our investors are one of provide a committed source of capital, both for our Firm and its investments. Our investors are one of Our third guiding principle is to flexibly and vignrously pursue the broad mandate our founding our time guiding principle is to hexibity and vigintously pursue the product manuale our founding shareholders provided. In pursuing our profit and investment objectives. INVESTCORP is not confined to any one economy, capital market or industry. We select from the widest range of investment opportunities in the industrialized world. Within that range, we have oriented ourselves primarily toward the acquisition of established private businesses and prime real estate. Our preference is for sustained growth and profitability. We have therefore been less susceptible than others to the volatility of public equity markets and the uncertainty of transactions that rely upon the substantial disposal of assets to support an acquired company's financial well-being. We move very substantial disposal of assets to support an acquired company's mancing wendering, we move very quickly in a variety of economies, capital markets and industry sectors to anticipate those opportunities quickly in a variety of economics, capital markets and moustry sectors to anticipate mose opportunities that will provide an optimum reward with acceptable risk during the period of our investment.

The fourth principle that guides INVESTCORP is that great transactions are made, not found in our with the colored we have enjoyed his been largely declared from a william and the found in our will be the colored with the color The fourth principle that guides INVESTCORP is that great transactions are made, not found in our view, the success we have enjoyed has been largely derived from a willingness to immerse our principles of the desired from a willingness to immerse our selves in our more core attributes of exceptional value. Similarly, we enjoy a competitive advantage where its not present the properties of the desired from an enguired, and mere financial weight. We believe that there beconceptions, free to adapt ourselves to both the human and husiness dynamics of the transaction. as no fleath-frequency successful transactions and we try to approach each new opportunity without pre-conceptions, free to adapt ourselves to both the human and husiness dynamics of the transaction,

Our fifth guiding principle is that, while we will move quickly to exploit external investment opportunities, in the development of our Firm, we will maintain a gradualist approach, avoiding rapid. opportunities, in the development of our rivin, we will maintain a graduants approach, avoiding rapid. reflexive growth. We do not feel compelled to be in every geographical or capital market or every line. of business, Because we choose to undertake only a few major transactions of quality each year, we have avoided the ill-focused cycles of growth and contraction common in the contemporary investment banking community. Where our own internal resources or expertise does not permit us to fully pursue opportunity, we feel no inhibition in extending the opportunity to outside partners or seeking the

Our final guiding principle is that sustained success in our business is ultimately measured by the capita) values realized over time from investments initiated by the Firm.

Each of these guiding principles was apparent in INVESTCORP's development during 1987. First, we have selectively increased and further developed our executive and professional statt to assure: (a) that each of our business centers, Bahrain, London and New York have a critical mass of assure: (a) that each of our ousness centers, pantain, compost and few york have a critical mass of executive and professional personnel to undertake our targeted husinesses and to maintain a fully contained to the house has a special in peach of our beautiful to the Analysis Codi. executive and professional personnel to undertake our targeted musinesses and to maintain a lung developed culture, and Ib) that we have the capacity in each of our key regions, the Arabian Gull. Europe and North America, to maintain direct and continuous relations between senior members of our Firm and the banks and other institutions whose support is essential to INVESTCORP.

Second, we began the year by putting into place the $50 million in primary equity capital which had Second, we began the year by putting into place the 500 million in primary equity capital which had been raised from INVESTCORP shareholders in the Gulf late in 1986. This capital placement, which was substantially oversubscribed, was a further endorsement of our strong relationship with our

Third, after several years of activity in the US markets, we announced the opening of a permanent office in New York, our third base location. We reached this decision only after we were confident we onice in new York, our unite base location, we reached this decision only after we were community had the necessary level of business opportunity, experience and human resources to warrant this

Fourth, having established our presence in the US markets based on several major curporate and real estate transactions, we undertook our first sustained corporate acquisition campaign in Europe. Early estate transactions, we undertook out this sustained corporate acquisition campaign in Europe. Early in the year we made a significant investment in the European travel and charter airline industry and Fifth, we extended our investment activities from healthy well managed companies to "special situations" when we were selected by the French courts to acquire the business assets of the luxury jewelry firm, Chaumet, and its affiliate, Breguet, one of the outstanding Swiss watchmakers. In these transactions we saw an opportunity to merge tradenames and products of exceptional distinction with new, highly professional management teams and to revitalize these businesses.

Finally, we accomplished the full cycle of investment and capital realization when Tiffany & Company was taken to the public equity markets with outstanding returns to our Firm and the investors we was taken to the public equity markets with outstanding returns to our rum and the investors we represent. This result was achieved through a combination of superior earnings growth by the represent, this result was achieved infough a combination of superior carnings growth by the Company, the excellence of Tiffany's management and the ability to respond quickly to the capital

While there were many other important developments for our Firm in 1987, we believe these six are representative of both the enduring principles upon which INVESTCORP was formed and the way in representative or point the enduring principles upon which these principles have been, and will continue to be, applied in the evolution of our business. The international and regional capital markets remain unsettled, however, we are confident that

The international and degional capital matters remain unsertied, nowever, we are consuminated investigations in the constitution of commitment of our staff, and the fundamental coundness of professionalism, integrity, creativity and commitment of our staff, and the fundamental soundness of professionansm, integrity, creativity and communion of our start, and the rundamental soundness of our business strategy will continue to generate higher levels of performance in 1988 and beyond.

Turning to Kuwait, he said that the country "is faced with several dilemmas in connection with the AIDS pandemic." Among the main concerns is the question of evaluation criteria and methods and the minister posed the question "how do we accommodate the right of a healthy society with those of AIDS carriers?". Furthermore, he spoke about the importance attached to national screening programme from AIDS and social and preventive repercussions. Al Awadi made it clear that the Ministry of Public Health in Kuwait has the advice and recommendations of the Kuwait national committee on AIDS which proposes and implements organised programmes and procedures in consultation with the guidelines of the World Health Organisation. "Kuwait's Public Health policies reflect the legal and moral ohligations of the country and the social expectations that require considerations of both the exposed and unexposed populations", the minister

He recalled that avoidance of additional exposure in the population and accidental trans-mission "have guided the initiatives and safeguards availa-hle to us" such as blood bank, disposable needless, public education and screening of risk

North Korea warns of retaliation

TOKYO, Jan 27, (Reuter): North Korea's Defence Minister vowed today to counter any aggressive act from South Korea and the United States "with a thousand-fold retaliation."

The statement hy O Jin-U coiocides with icy relations between the North and South. Seoul this month accused Pyongyang destroying a South Korean airlioer with the loss of 115 lives last November.

The North Koreao Central News Agency, monitored in Tokyo, said the warning from O Jin-U appeared in a statement he issued to reporters. He was quoted as saying: "The (North) Korean people and the officers and men of the (North) Koreao People's Army will always watch with heightened vigilance the reckless ouclear war provocation moves of the US imperialists and the South Korean puppets and counter any aggressive act of the enemy with a thousand-fold retaliation."

He said North Koreans "have the unshakable will to defend the

Bush cashes in on clash with TV newscaster

WASHINGTON, Jan 27, (Reuter): Vice President George Bush is out to parlay public sympathy stirred by a clash with a prominent television newscaste into votes in the upcoming presidential primary season.

Most political experts said Bush's testy nine-minute joust on Monday night with CBS news-cast Dan Rather should help Bush's bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

"Republicans saw their Vice President kick the main television anchorman io the teeth and they loved it," said William Schneider, a non-partisan political analyst.

Former White House political director Mitchell Daniels said the tiff, in which Bush turned interrogator by asking Rather about his embarrassing walkout that left CBS with several minutes of hlank airtime, undercuts the "wimp" label often pinned on the Vice President.

To Republican voters anyhody who Dan Rather is out to get can't be all bad," he told Reuters.

Boost Bush also got a boost from President Reagan, who said oo Tuesday he was fully in accord with the Vice President's refusal to divulge his private advise oo the Iran arms deal. "I think he has been exactly right," Reagan told reporters. Rather on the CBS evening news on Tuesday made no apology for his tone in the interview, saying that he respected the Vice President but "trying to ask tough questioos and trying to be persistent about answers is part of the reporter's joh."

Bush complained angrily duringthe interview that he had been led to believe it would be a general political profile hut that it then focused narrowly on the Iran-Contra affair.

Rather said last night: "CBS news did not mislead the Vice President about the subject of the interview. We dealt extensively with his staff about our ioteotions, we dealt truthfully with them and we stated our intentions publicly well before the

Death squads are active again in Latin America

By Bernd Debusmann

MEXICO, (Reuter): Latin American death squads are active again, murdering with impunity.

After a few years of relative inactivity at the height of Laun America's democratic wave in the mid-1980s, death squads are operating once more from Guatemala to Brazil, police say.

Some kill in the name of ideology, some to "cleanse" society from prostitutes, thieves and homosexuals, some on contract for the multi-million dollar drug trade. All consider themselves above the law. Few are brought to trial. bands and 'Armed paramilitary groups ... escape the vigilance of (state) authorities, both military and civilian," said a recent document by the Roman Catholic church in Colombia. 'Assassination is becoming a generalised method."

Precise figures on killings by death squads are difficult to compile, but police and diplomats estimate the overall total in thousands. In Colombia alone, news media counted close to 1,500 political killings in 1987. The roll call of victims is long,

The rown and growing.

In El Salvador, gunmen shot down human rights activist Rene Joaquin Cardenas Vargas on Dec 10. Herber Ernesto Anaya. the president of the Salvadoran Human Rights Commission died on Oct 26 in an assassination that bore all the hallmarks of a rightwing death squad, although recently an imprisoned leftist claimed that the left had killed

In Colombia, left-wing leader Jaime Pardo Leal fell to an assassin's bullet on Oct 11. President of the Patriotic Union (UP), around 500 party activists to be murdered since the party was formed in 1985.

His sbooting was attributed to death squad killers who, in Colombia as elsewhere in Latin America, operate with the tacit approval of extremist elements in the security forces.

Latin America's "traditional" death squads have usually been made up of off-duty members of the Army or security forces who believe their governments are not acting vigorously enough in the fight against international communism. But many new groups inat have sprung up have gone beyond the right-lest confrontation. Hired killers carrying out non-political murders frequently mimic methods of old-style death squads to cover their tracks, according to police. When a trade union organiser in El Salvador was blown up last September by a bomb hidden in a birthday parcel, investigators suspected a political motive. It turned out the bomb had been sent by a rival for the attentions of a woman.

In Guatemala, crime experts say, you can hire a killer for as little as $200 for a "hi1" made to look like a political act. In the Colombian "cocaine capital" of Medellin, apprentice assassins are said to charge only $40.

In December, Colombian police reported having disman-tled several "schools" for fired killers. Subjects taught at the establishments, financed by the cocaine trade, ranged from using silenced guns to weaving motorcycles through traffic.

"In Columbia, you have all sorts of violence," said Columbian judge Gilberto Lancheros, echoing the problems of several Laun countries. "Violence between the Army and guerrillas, violence from cocaine traffickers, violence from paramilitary groups. Plus, of course, common crime."

Some experts on Latin America attribute the resurgence of death squads to the weakness of young democratie governments, their reluctance to confront the military head-on, and their inability to crack down on Japan also enforces a number of restrictions on links with South Africa, hut the trade figures just keep growing.

According to official Japanese

The estimated trade total for last year is $4.27 hillion, a sharp rise even allowing for exchange rate fluctuations, officials say. "These figures certainly

A Ministry of International Trade and industry (MITI) official said Japan was not alone is experiencing a jump in trade with South Africa — a number of West European countries with South African links were in the same situation.

Japanese economic sanctions against South Africa, introduced in 1986, include a ban on the export of computers to South African agencies enforcing apartheid and a ban on imports of South African iron and steel.

However, South Africa is a major source of coal and rare Motorists are reckless SIR: Something should be done to prevent road accidents. Motorists must take care while driving. The number of traffic accidents are apalling. It seems there is an accident every 20 minutes. This causes loss of life and property. Motorists speed past schools, super | markets and busy sbopping centres, without any concern for the life of others. They just don't control the speed of cars.

Recently, the traffic department put up "STOP" signs on all major roads in both Arabic and English. Most car drivers don't follow instructions. They don't stop for even a minute before entering a lane and overtake other cars on highways and change lanes frequently from the fast to the middle to the slow lanes.

Motorists are reckless and disregard traffic rules. Many young drivers listen to loud music on their tape recorders and don't pay attention to traffic on roads. Some motorists make phone calls while driving, losing concentration.

Instead of looking at traffic and the road, the lady drivers pay more attention to looking at themselves in the mirrors. This is also a hig problem.

I request the authorities to look into the matter and find a suitable solution.

The Express — considered the among the national English-language dailies — last year laun-ched an investigation into the overseas dealings of influential businessmen and alleged kickbacks to government officials on weapons purchases. The Express contends the scandals bave touched the Prime Minister, his cronies, and family members. Last March, the government retaliated with a raid on the New Delhi bome of Goenka, the newspaper's feisty owner, and followed in September with raids on Express offices nationwide. Officials said they sought proof that the Express violated import and foreign-exchange rules in huying printing machinery. A month later, the newspaper was shut down for 47 days hy a labour strike which the Express charged was engineered by Rafiv's Congress (I) Party. Then. the government ordered repossession of the Indian Express building in New Delhi, claiming the newspaper was illegally rent-ing out extra space to other ten-Shourie insists the paper is not "scandal-mongering" and treats his competitors with disdain. "A dog with a bone in his mouth can't bark," he says, "The docile press today is like that little dog." Masses prefer film fare.

Chemical arms ban chances harmed

GENEVA, (Reuter): A Soviet disarmament negotiator has said. the United States had harmed prospects for an early ban on chemical weapons by resuming production of these arms last month.

Nikita Smidovich told a news conference that in another negative move. US officials, including Vice-President George Bush, had recently suggested aiming at reducing chemical arms stocks rather than eliminating them completely.
"More and more it seems that the United States is not ready for speedy progress and early conclusion of a treaty Smido vich said."

"We do not think it is just a coincidence that production starts, and on the other hand some ideas are at least floated that there may be a partial solution to the problem of chemical weapons."

Smidovich is a chemical arms specialist in the Soviet delegation at the 40-nation Geneva disarmament conference which opens its 1988 session next Tuesday.

Combative miners stage a strike

By Tim Frasca

PEDRO DE VALDIVIA, Chile: Two sun-baked mining camps carved out of a desolate stretch of the world's driest desert are about all that remain of Chile's nitrate-salts industry, which until World War 1 accounted for half the country's trade earnings and even sparked a war a century ago with neighbouring Peru and

But last month, miners at the Chilean Chemical and Mining Company in Pedro de Valdivia revived something of their past in this cradle of Chile's unionbased Marxist left: They went on

The miners didn't win all they had hoped through the strike, but labour organisers see the strike as the beginning of more labour agitation this year. "Our services to assist in collective bargaining are much more in demand, and we are seeing many more strikes and near-strikes than we saw two years ago," says Ivan Valenzuela of the Labour Assistance Centre, which aids unions in collective hargaining.

According to lawyers and conlronically, the government's very success in returning Chile to economic stability after the disastrous 1982-83 recession is contributing to workers' growing confidence. Companies' debt hurdens have eased, while productivity. overtime, and profits have risen spectacularly. "It's hard for workers to accept the constant loss of buying power when they see their company's stock prices double or triple," Valenzuela says. Inflation is about 20 per cent per annum, and wages have not kept up. In addition, strikes and work slow downs are more effective with factories running full time and purchase contracts awaiting fulfillment.

Although overall unemployment remains high at 13 per cent, skilled workers in specific categories are hard to find, especially at short notice. In Pedro de Valdivia, the Dec 1 strike lasted 10 days before company executives agreed to a honus and restoration of some bealth benefits. But the small gains were far less than those hoped for.

Chile's "open-shop" labour laws allow the formation of parallel unions, which makes it difficult for striking workers to bold out until their demands are Nitrate salts, which are used in fertilisers, once brought Chile huge earnings and was called the "white gold" of the north. Chile annexed the nitrate-rich desert after defeating Peru and Bolivia in the War of the Pacific (1879-

Communist and Socialist party organisers fought for the miners' sympathies in succeeding decades while the nearby port town of lquique boomed with new wealth, elegant clubs, and a fancy theatre. On Dec 21, 1907, probably the worst act of labour repression in modern times occurred in Iquique when Army troops mowed down some 3,000 striking miners and their families. President Manuel Montt, whose family had financial interests in the mines, toasted the massacre during Christmas celebrations.

over, the leftist mining zone was hard-hit by repression. The kidnapping and killing of union and political leaders were common, and one mining camp was converted into a prison for political detainees.

The reorganised unions passed into the hands of pro-regime labour leaders, a process later repeated in other industries. The outhurst of protests against the military dictatorship in 1983 gave the union movement a powerful stimulus.

Union leaders quickly formed alliances to back this opposition movement, but they found little response among their own rankand-file. As a result of the unrest, which stemmed from the severe economic problems, the organised workers maintained a conservative attitude.

Only now are they willing to become active. Citing the Pinochet government's suppression of free trade unions and other violations of workers' rights, the Reagan administration suspended on Dec 24 duty-free status for nearly $60 million of its annual imports from Chile.

THINGS fall apart, the centre cannot hold, the world is just a little off key, where there's smoke there's fire, hut where the smoke has gone there's just a smoulder. Like this morning, doing the crossword, the clue was SWAN and the answer was four letters beinning with L and E. I stared at it for ages, my hrain hubbling like marsh gas ... a dim light flickered, then it came, "Swan Lane." On to the next clue, just a vague suspicion that something's not quite right.

The problem, gentle reader, is nicotine. I have just quit smoking after spending the past twenty years as a part time industrial chimney and, to be bonest, I am finding it just a little twitchy. The old brain isn't exactly firing on all cylinders. Instead of burbling along like a Ferrari the old Wells' noddle sounds like a lawn mower with twigs in the carburettor.

Simple things, like dressing myself, driving to work and stopping my lingers from crocheting my tie into the telephone extension cable are hard enough without a regular jolt of Rothmans King Size nerve gas, but difficult things, like writing, are sheer agony. For a start some swine has jiggled the typewriter keyboard so all the letters are in the wrong places, evertime I typoe a wurdy itt comees out ronk, by the timp I hev correk it then i furgut whot I wosh traying to sed.

Or else, like Swan Lane, I'm nearly there but not quite on the bell. Or else long, quite graceful sentences without a verb. I'm using oral substitutes, the ashtrays are overflowing with chewed up toothpicks, I get through a pack of twenty chewing gums a day, the office is knee deep in worry beads that I've worried right off their strings. I gaze longingly at those delicious cool white tubes of heaven, tongue slavering, lungs aquiver. Surely one little puff won't leave my throat carpeted with fluff, one deep drag will cure my every problem, just one, just one.

But no, one has to be firm, so I grit (gritted? grat? grut?) my teeth and pressed on. So far it's heen eleven days sixteen hours and thirty seven minutes since I stopped smoking, My early bopes of springing hright-eyed and hushy tailed from my bed at crack of dawn, looking decades younger and sparkling with youthful vigor, bave faded somewhat. Instead I crawl out, dying for a gasper, and seeming more hushy brained than busby tailed Will-power is the answer. Now it's a little known fact. even amongst those who know me well, that I am to will-power what Martina Navratilova is to oil refinery maintenance. But I'm banging in there, twitching as I dangle, spending most of my time not smoking, determined to see it through. I just hope that when the addiction dies away my brain comes back and that the Ugly Ducklet returns to Swan Lane before it's too late.

The snag is that ever since

I quit (quat? quut?) I can't seem to think about anything else. Life gets to be a drag when you can't have a drag and of course, there are those little social problems; 'What d'ya mean, I'm sborttempered?' I barked at the wife, gripping her hy the throat. But that sort of thing is just the filter tip of the iceberg, she's just unlucky to be the butt of my troubles. See what I mean? There's a smokescreen over everything that I can't quite stub out. Ah well, bopefully, by this time next week I'll have risen from the dead asbes of my former self and be back to normal.

The Art Buchwald Column

purple cow, I never bope to see one. But I can tell you, anybow, I'd rather see than be one."

It has to be granted that ludicrous exaggeration is a tricky husiness and if done properly can inflict great pain and suffering on the intended victim.

That is why Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis once said in a footnote, "Parody can sometimes be truer than truth and righter than rain.

If Falwell gets his $200,000: how many others will file suit claiming they have been made sick to the stomach hy some creator of hurlesque?

It isn't the money we worry about - most cartoonists and funny men make between $800,000 and $900,000 a year - hut the chilling effect that a decision in Falwell's favour will produce among publishers and editors, who have never been to sure whether they wanted satire in their papers in the first place.

Witbout a Dooneshury, our publications would take on the ugly gray, dull look of a Pravda. John Marshall our fourth Supreme Court Chief Justice, had this in mind when he told the graduating class of the Harvard Law School -"The Founding Fathers warned us that if you can't make fun of Jerry Falwell, then how can anyone seud up Tammy Bakker?" What do I want the present Supreme Court to do? I want them to compromise.

There are solutions that would satisfy everyone. It means fooling around with the Constitution a little bit, hut no court ever minded that. I suggest the following:

The Supreme Court should order people dealing in parody, satire and humour to be licensed by the federal government and placed under court supervision. Let us say Ed Meese objects to a Herb Block cartoon because Herh has made Ed look like a barnyard animal.

Meese, if he gets emotionally sick, can demand the immediate withdrawal of Herh's license for a period of 10 days, or the rest of his term as Attorney-General whichever comes first. Under these conditions

Block would think twice about putting jowls on Ed Meese's cheeks.

It isn't easy being on the same side of an issue as Larry Flynt. But a lot is at stake here. As Justice Hugo Black tried to tell the court years ago, "You have to defend cheap sleazy magazines to protect the constitutional rights of the expensive sleazy ones."

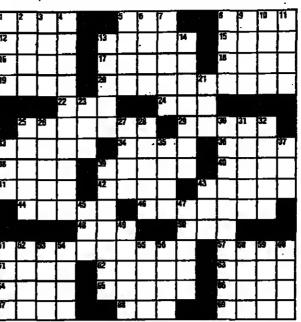

I believe it is the role of the parodist to make fun of every well-known figure in this country, regardless of position, sex, payscale or standing in the community - with one exception. They would have to first beat me with a rubber hose before I made light of the eight freedom-loving justices who smile down on all of us from the highest court in this

only himself to blame for his defeat. Had he realized the threat of a suff was there, he could have taken preventive measures.

After winning the first trick in dummy, declarer should have led a spade to the ace right away. It would then have been a simple matter to cash the ace of diamonds and cross to the table with a diamond ruff. On the king of spades declarer sluffs his remaining dub, and he now can go about his husiness secure in the knowledge that there is nothing the enemy can do to stop him from making his stam. Believers in Murphy's Law-that if something can go wrong, it willdo well at the bridge table. They take time out to think of the worst that can occur, then see if there are any steps they can take to avert the catastrophe.

Kuwait sticks to Opec quota

KUWAIT'S Oil Minister Sheikh Ali Al Khalifa, in a statement published here yesterday, denied foreign reports which claimed that Kuwait was over producing its Opec oil production quota.

Kuwait according to the foreign reports bad increased its allocated quota by 50,000 barrels

Malaysia to sign trade agreement with China

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia, Jan 27, (AP): Malaysia hopes to sign a trade agreement with China before the Chinese lunar New Year on Feb 17, Deputy Trade and Industry Minister Kok Wee Kiat said today.

Kok told reporters that his ministry was completing an agreement that would help boost direct trade with China. Most of Malaysia's trade with China is conducted through third countries such as Singapore, Hong Kong and Thailaud. The agreement would give Malaysia "preferred nation" status in China, eliminating a 10-per cent tax China imposes on goods imported directly from Malaysia, Kok said.

Malaysia will amend a law requiring a licence to export goods directly to China, Kok said. The licence, issued by the National Trading Corp., costs five-tenths of 1 per cent of the value of the exports. The semi-governmental trade body uses the money from the fees to promote sales of Malaysian rubber and other goods to China. In making the change the corporation would lose about 3 million ringgits ($1.2 million) in annual revenue, corporation officials said.

US budget deficit rises

WASHINGTON, Jan 27, (Reuter): The US budget deficit rose to $23.88 billion in December, the third month of the 1988 fiscal year, from $12.22 billion in December 1986, the Treasury Department reported today.

Last mouth's deficit follows shortfalls of $25.77 billion in November and 30.74 billion in October, bringing the total deficit so far this fiscal year to 80.39 billion. In the same period a year earlier, the deficit was 64.59 billion. For the entire 1987 fiscal year, which ended last September 30, the deficit was $148.01

White House and congressional negotiators agreed in November to reduce the deficit by nearly $76 billion from its projected levels over the next two years

Government estimates of the fiscal 1988 deficit range from about $130 hillion to 150 billion, including cuts agreed last November by White House and congressional negotiators.

Financial journalist fined

LONDON, Jan 27, (AP): A high court judged fined a financial journalist £20,000 ($35,400) yesterday for refusing to reveal his sources of information for articles about an insider trading case. Judge Sir Nicolas Browne-Wilkinson convicted Jeremy Warner, 32, business correspondent of the independent newspaper, of contempt of court. The newspaper agreed to pay the fine. Warner had faced a possible two-year sentence or a fine or both under the 1981 contempt of court act, which says journalists can protect their sources unless their identification is "necessary" for national security or the administration of justice.

The judge said he drew back from jailing Warner to prevent "the creation of a martyr." "Parliament, in a democratic free society, lays down what is the law and what must be done," he said. "Journalists are no more entitled to say they don't comply with it than anybody else." Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's government turned to the financial services act of 1986 to try to compel Warner to serve as a police informer in an investigation into a purported multi-million-pound (dollar) insider trading case on the London Stock Market.

London Gold

LONDON, JAN 27 - GOLD BULLION REMAINED UNDER PRESSURE IN LINE WITH A DROP IN NEW YORK FUTURES, ENDING THE DAY IN LONDON AT ITS LOWEST CLOSING LEVEL SINCE NOVEMBER 18. IT CLOSED AT 465.75/466.25 DLRS AN OUNCE, SOHE WAY ABOVE THE DAY'S LOW OF 464.00/464.50 NIT IN MID-AFTERNOON AFTER PUBLICATION OF BETTER-THAN-EXPECTED U.S. FOURTH QUARTER GNP

THIS COMPARED WITH ITS OPENING LEVEL OF 469.50/470.00 DLRS, WHICH WAS UNCHANGED ON TUESDAY'S CLOSE. DEALERS SAID THE METAL HAD COME IN FOR GOOD SUPPORT AT LOWER LEVELS IN BUSIER

Landon Money Market

LONDON, JAN 27 - MONEY RATES MOVED BACK TO OVERNIGHT LEVELS AFTER OPENING SLIGHTLY FIRMER. TRADING THROUGHOUT WAS DULL AS OPERATORS STAYED OUT OF THE MARKET AHEAD OF TOMORROW: 5 U.K. DECEMBER TRADE DATA, OFALERS SAID.

THE POSITIVE INTERPRETATION OF U.S. FOURTH QUARTER GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT DATA BY THE NEW YORK CREDIT MARKETS HELPED THE MARKET TONE THIS AFTERNOON BUT DEALERS SAID THE FIGURES HAD LITTLE REAL IMPACT ON RATES.

STERLING FUTURES AND THE POUND ALSO SHOWED LITTLE REACTION AND THE DECEMBER U.K. TRADE FIGURES TOMORROW ARE LIKELY TO BE MUCH MORE IMPORTANT IN SETTING THE NEAR-TERM TREND.

Wall Street Market Report

New York, Jan 27, Stocks rose in moderate trading after the government reported a 4.2 pct gain in fourth quarter GNP and the bond market surged. But volume was light and traders said investors remain somewhat skeptical given the market volatility and the still low confidence level on the economy.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 15 points to 1935. Advances led declines by an eight to three margin and volume was 82 min

The index rose as much as 25 points this morning, snapping back from the 26 point loss on Tuesday.

KD rates firm then fall back

KUWAITI dinar deposit rates firmed yesterday after the Central Bank made its fourth issue of three-month Treasury bills, then fell back on high liquidity.
Although the KD120 million issue was oversubscribed by KD43 million, banks received most of their requests which had a firming effect on rates.

The bills were allotted at an average yield of 4.268 per cent, slightly higher than Tuesday's three-month interbank quotes of 4 1/8, 3 3/4 per cent.

Deals

Dealers said overnight funds shot up to six per cent early in the morning from 1/2 per cent levels on Tuesday, then fell back to near par with deals reported at 1/ 8 per cent.

One-month funds rose to 4 I/8, 3 5/8 per cent then slipped to 3 7/ 8, 1/2 per cent, about 1/4 point above Tuesday levels.

Three-month was put at 4 1/2, 1/8 per cent, six-month at five, 4 I/2 per cent and one-year at 5 I/2, five per cent.

The short dates, liquid from month-end salary payments, were well offered with tomorrow-next quoted at one, 1/ 2 per cent and spot-next at two, one per cent. The Central Bank dinar exchange rate was touch firmer at 0.27473/83 to the dollar from Tuesday's 0.27495/505. Commercial banks quoted the spot dinar at around 0.27480/85.

Meanwhile, a fall in Saudi interbank deposit rates appeared to have slowed down yesterday, four days after a government statement ruled out a devaluation of the rival.

Dealers said rates fell early in the day, but recovered later on. Trade was light in the welloffered market.

Banks and corporate customers had borrowed rival funds over the last few weeks to swap into dollar in anticipation of a devaluation, but began a sharp decline on Suoday after the governmeni sialemeni was released and rumours receded. Maturities

One-month maturities were offered as low as six per cent early yesterday, but later recovered to 63/4, 5/8 per cent.
Dealers had quoted one-month at 6 3/4, 1/2 per cent on Tuesday and last week it reached a high of 8 3/4 per cent.

Three-months eased to 6 13/
16, 9/16 from seven, 6 3/4 per cent. Six-months firmed to 7 1/4, 7 1/16 per cent from 7 1/8, 6 7/8 per cent, but one-year eased 1/8 point to 7 1/2, 1/4 per cent.

SpoI-oexi was quoted at a low 4 1/4, 3 3/4 per cent and the spot Saudi eased to 3.7510/15 to the dollar, but both figures reflected technical factors ahead of the Gulf Friday weekend.

Prince Hassan arrives today

Experts to review world economy

(Kuna): Crown Prince Hassan of Jordan is due to arrive in Switzerland tomorrow for the world economic forum, the informal annual meeting of world political and financial leaders.

The crown prince will be accompanied hy the Energy Minister Dr Hisham Al Khatib, Trade, Industry and Supply Minister Hamdi Tabbagh and Planning Minister Dr Abdullah Al Nasur

The week-long conference beginning from Jan 29, consists of a series of private meetings, public speeches and debates will attract two ruling prime ministers, some 100 senior government figures, and nearly 1,000 senior company executives and international bankers. Objectives

Among the Middle East participants at the gathering will be Saudi Arahian Oil Minister Sheikh Hisham Nazer and Algerian Finance Minister Abdel Aziz Khalaf.

Kuwait, which was due to have sent the ministers of information and oil to the conference, was obliged to withdraw because of an extensive government reshuf-fle announced yesterday.

The main objective of the symposium was to allow decision makers the possibility to discuss the implications of the present economic and financial elimate and the future trends, world economic forum president Professor Klaus Schwab said.

The general theme of the gathering : is "the new state of the world economy" and within this framework there would be indepth discussions of the evolution of the world oil market and international deht, he added.

and Ireland, and several regions in North and Latin America would be making presentations on the state of their economies and on the prospects for future growth.

During the seminar Greek Prime Minister Andreas Papandreon and his Turkish counterpart Turgut Ozal are to meet for informal discussions on ways to ease tensions between the two countries, as a precursor to the first formal: talks for a decade.

Oil ministers from six of the most important producing and consuming nations will spend two days at the seminar discussing expected price, supply and demand trends.

The Opec producers will be fielding a strong team comprising former and current Opec con-ference presidents Dr Suhroto of Indonesia and Rilwanu Lukman of Nigeria, along with their Saudi counterpart, Sheikh Hisham

Confronting them will be the ministers of energy from the two principal producing countries which have consistently refused to collaborate with Opec in market stabilising efforts, the US

US Energy Secretary John Herrington and his London counterpart Cecil Parkinson are expected to reiterate to the Opec ministers their belief that market forces and not production management should be the factor that determines the price of crude oil.

Also due in Davos was Norwegian Oil Minister Arne Oien, who has been more open to Opec's argument that it is to the benefit of consumers and producers alike to maintain price stability.

The Soviet Union will be sending a strong team to the con-ference, including several ministers responsible for trade and development, as will West Germany, who will be represented by central hank president Karl Otto Poehl and Labour Minister Nortbert Bluem.

Other personalities due to parncipate include former Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone, European Commissioner Willy De Clerq, British Trade and Industry Minister Lord Young, Venezuelan Finance Minister Hector Navarro, the US Ambassador to the UN Vernon Walters, and the chairmen of such companies as Sony and ITT.

loss RIYADH, Jan 27, (Reuter): Saudi Cairo Bank said today it lost 59.67 million riyals ($16 million) in 1986, the higgest loss reported hy a Saudi bank since oil revenues began dropping off in the early 1980s.

The loss came after six years of financial problems which prompted the central bank, the Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency (Sama), to step in to support the Jeddah-based bank with a large volume of low-interest deposits.

Saudi Cairo, owned 40 per cent hy Egypt's Banque Du Caire, published its 1986 figures nearly nine months after a reporting deadline set hy the Commerce Ministry expired.

It confirmed it was going ahead with a rescue plan under which the state-owned public investment fund would inject 300 million rivals ($80 million) into the bank, doubling capital to 600 million riyals ($160 million).

This woud dilute Banque Du Caire's shareholding to 20 per cent. An earlier rescue attempt only a few months ago doubled Saudi Cairo's capital from 150 million riyals ($40 million).

The bank's troubles began in the early 1980s when it lost 408 million rivals ($109 million) hy speculating in precious metals. Bank officials said later a large part of its loan portfolio had gone sour and it declared zero profit for 1985.

Treasury Secretary Gustavo Petricioli said the government's first bond auction under its new foreign deht exchange programme will be held on Fch.

He described as "realistie" the government's goal of selling as much as $20 hillion in bonds to help unload part of its foreign debt of about $105 hillion, the second highest in the developing world after Brazil.

Dollar and gold dip

LONDON, Jan 27, (Reuter): The dollar dipped, then steadied today after the US government said America's economy grew at a brisk rate of 4.2 per cent in the last quarter of 1987, the period which included the October stock market crash.

In the first half hour after the figures were released at 8.30 am (1330 GMT) in Washington, the dollar lost about three-quarters of a pfennig and one-third of a yen to around 1.6710 West German marks and 127.60 Japanese

It then steadied around those levels, and held comfortably above the European quoted lows for the day — touched in the morning — of 1.6660 marks and 127.40 yen. Modestly

Wall Street stocks gained, hut modestly, in early trading. Independent economists and market analysts had been expecting a growth figure of around 3.5 per cent for the October-December quarter - the three-month period which included the 'Black Monday' October 19 stock market crash.

The Commerce Department numbers showed growth of 2.9 percent for the whole of 1987, the same as that recorded in 1986.

But share markets seemed

In London, the Financial Times-Stock Exchange 100share index, the main guide to the value of the hlue-chip British stocks edged up slightly hut by mid-afternoon was still about two points down yesterday's the day's low of 1,758.9.

Many European bourses had closed before the US figures came out. West German share values ended a nervous session near their worst levels of the day and dealers said the market had been undermined by falls earlier in the day in Tokyo and yesterday in New York. The Boersen-Zeitung index declined 3.02 points to close at 255.32.

The Zurich market ended mixed to lower and share values finished lower in Milan and Madrid. Mid-session reports from Paris, Amsterdam and Brussels also showed shares eas-mg. Wall Street opened today just a third of a point up yesterday's elose at 1,920.92 then moved up closer to 1,930.

Dealers had earlier been saying the markets were in mood to take the negative view of any news that came: their way.

For instance, they have fretted for weeks about the danger that the crash of '87 will herald a recession, in the way the 1929 Wall Street crash presaged the 1930s great depression. Yesterday the United States reported a strong 6.7 per cent rise in orders for consumer durables everything from washing machines to airliners -- in the fourth quarter of last year. That suggested that demand for goods had not fallen as a consequence of Black Monday and that recession was unlikely. But instead of rallying Wall

It decided that the continuing consumer hoom which was reflected in the strong level of orders might portend inflation.

Dealers speak of a generalised pessimism in the money markets, with the volume of business disturbingly thin.

"There is a complete lack of enthusiasm at the moment. No one seems willing to commit a large amount of funds to equities until a clearer outlook for the US and UK economies emerges," a London share trader said.

A Frankfurt dealer observed: 'Positive factors don't lift shares, but negative news depres-

Earlier in Tokyo, the Nikkei index lost 162.85 points or 0.69 per cent to end at 23.335.91.

Elsewhere in Asia, Sydney's Australian All-Ordinaries index fell 8.8 points to 1,269.1, largely due to the fall in gold prices, brokers said. Hong Kong's Hang Seng share index also fell 16 points to 2,410, according to preliminary figures.

BOMBAY, Jan 27, (UPI): Gold fever has seized India's wealthy, creating a hooming market fueled hy smuggling, the diminishing value of stocks and the rupee currency and an age-old lust for the metal.

"It is madness," said Gopal Bhai, one of the harassed salesmen serving the throngs in Bombay's Zaveri Bazaar, the hustling western India entrepot's main gold centre. "This buying spree is keeping me on my feet all day."

president Shantilal Sonawala said the "crazy huying spree" had been spurred hy inflation, erosion of middle-class faith in the stock markets and the rupee, and a tightening of gold supplies in the face of increased demand.

An inordinately high demand has kept prices higher than those in the international markets. Prices rose to a peak of Rs 337 ($29) per gram - about 40 per cent above the prevailing world rate - during a recent rush to "The period between November and March is usually the husy season for us," said Zaveri. "This is the traditional Indian marriage season, and everyone wants to buy gold." The government holds a monopoly on importing gold. But with the gap betwen local and international prices, gold smuggling has become an attractive proposition.

Sonawalla estimated almost half of the annual 150 tons sold across India arrives through illegal channels. The rest consists of gold already within the country, either recycled hy jewellers or among the 2 tons produced domestically each year.

Much is smuggled through India's western border with Pakistan. The rest is brought in illicitly hy plane from Hong Kong and ingapore or by a nine-hour speedboat ride from Gulf countries, such as Dubai.
A string of successful customs raids against smugglers has greatly decreased available stocks and pushed up prices. -Lobbying Sonawalla and other main hullion dealers have been lobbying for the government to loosen import regulations and allow Indian citizens arriving from abroad to bring in 30 grams of gold. Currently, customs officers confiscate any gold they find on travellers.

He stressed Algeria's policy within the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (Opec) was unchanged. The country still supports a revenue rather than production policy to be obtained if necessary by cutting output. Meanwhile, new gas pipelines has been laid to enable easier deliveries to European elients and a drive for new customers bas started. The policy appears to be bearing

Exports

Latest figures show natural gas exports last year represented 25 per cent of all hydro-carbon exports, nudging ahead of crude oil exports with 22 per cent and the same level as exports of refined products. Condensates accounted for 23-25 per cent and liquefied petroleum gas six to eight per cent.

Similar figures are expected this year and then natural gas exports could leap forward. Deals Officials say deals for natural gas exports to Britain, Greece and Turkey will be signed soon.

Dear Junior Readers

Some children 1 know, recently elected class officers, It was their first experience in running for office, compaigning and voting.

What pleased me most about the experience was that even children who had not been elected were able to share in the joy of those who had been chosen.

We often do not get what we want, while someone else does. It is important that we learn to share in others' good fortune rather than feeling angry or lealous about it.

We will be much happier if we learn this simple lesson.

average speed of Davey's round trip?

Answers

HAVE you always been a little bit afraid of math problems or puzzles? Has a problem ever seemed so difficult that you didn't want to spend any time trying to solve it? Many people feel this way. But they don't have to. Solving math

Try these math puzzles and you may find that you will learn so many new ways of solving math problems that your skill as well as your enjoyment of math has increased.

Wendy has just skied down to the bottom of a hill in her back yard. Her skis made a trail 360 feet long, from Now she is going to climb back to the top of the hill, along the trail that her skis made when she skied down.

How long will it take her to reach the top of the hill?

One day Davey went mountain climbing. He hiked along the Blue Dot Trail up Mt Minuit at the rate of 3 miles per hour. No sooner had he reached the top of Mt Minuit than he immediately began his return trip down the mountain. He went down Mt Minuit along the Blue Dot Trail at a rate of 6 miles per hour. What was the

• There are 3 feet in one yard. Therefore, the number of yards in the trail that Wendy's skis made when she skied down to the bottom of the hill is 360 divided by 3, or 120.

yards, and slipped back 2 yards. Therefore, she actually went up the hill at the rate of I vard per minute. At the end of the 117th minute, Wendy had climbed 117 yards up the hill.

Thus at the end of 117 minutes, she was only 3 yards from the top of the hill. She climbed these 3 yards during the next 30 seconds. Therefore, Wendy reached the top of the hill in 117-1/2 minutes, or I hour and 571/2 minutes.

The answer to this puzzle is the same no matter how long the Blue Dot Trail is from the bottom of Mt. Minuit to its top. Let us say that the length of the trail up Mt. Minuit is 12 miles. Then the round-trip distance up and down the mountain is 24 miles. Since Davey hiked up the mountain at arase of 3 miles per hour, it took him 4 hours to reach the top of the mountain. Davey went back down the mountain at a rate of 6 miles per hour, so the descent took him 2 hours.

Therefore the total time that it took for Davey to make the tound trip was 6 hours. Then the average speed for the round trip is equal to 24 miles divided by 6 hours, or 4 miles per hour. You do not obtain the average speed by adding 3 and 6, and then dividing by 2. To get the average speed for the round trip, you must divide the total distance by the

Every minute that Wendy climbed, she moved forward 3

Every minute that Wendy climbs up the hill, she moves forward 3 yards during the first 30 seconds, and slides back 2 yards while she rests during the next 30 seconds.

Magic tricks

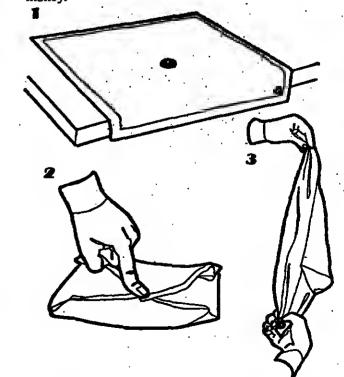

Fadeaway dime

A dime is fairly and openly folded into a cloth napkin. Nevertheless, when the napkin is shaken out the dime has vanished.

In one corner of your napkin about one inch in from the sides, you put a very small piece of either soft chewing gum, or sticky soap. Have a dime handy. The trick

Spread the napkin out flat on the table or on the palm of the spectator's hand so that the two corners nearest to you drape just over the edge. The piece of gum or soap is on the upper surface of the cloth, in the right corner near you (1). Place the dime in the centre of the napkin. Pick up the lower left corner and cover the dime with it. Ask someone to feel the dime through the cloth. Uncover the coin, opening the corner of the cloth all the way out. Pick up the dime, show it again, and replace it in the centre. Now pick up the prepared corner and bring it to the centre, so the sticky substance rests on top of the coin. Press down on the dime. Bring in the other three corners to cover the dime, and ask someone to feel the coin again (2). Reach into the pile of corners and pick up the one that came from the upper left. Very openly, with just the thumb and finger, pull that corner out and the handkerchief up and away from the table so that the dime doesn't hit the surface. Gently wave the hanky a couple of times to prove the dime has vanished and then run it through your hand. As your hand gets to the bottom corner you steal off the coin into your fingers (3). Toss the handkerchief out for examination and you can pocket the dime. You've just discovered another neat way to get rid of money.

W. INDIES BECOME A BETTER TEAM AFTER TOUR

Richards pulls off twin tasks in India

TRIVANDRUM, India, Jan 27. (Reuter): The West lodies' tour of India could oot bave ended on Mnodayona more satifying nnie for skipper Vivian Richards, whose task, besides winning matches, was also to rebuild a side from young, raw taleot. Richards, a giant in the game, accomplished both.

"I am must pleased with the performance of my team." Richards said after West Indies thrasbed India by nine wickets in the seventh and last nne-day international here.

Sensation West Indies dominated the Test matches and were ahead until India coojured up a sensatinn to draw the fnur-Test series

But West Indies, masters of nne-day crieket, wnn all but one cootest io the eight-match series one of the eight was declared uonfficial and did nnt qualify as an internatinnal. Riehards has every reason tn feel satisfied with the victories. Ynung Carl Hooper and Phil Simmons have improved with every match, auguring well for the future of West lodian cricket. Pacemao Cnurtoey Walsh.

Patrick Pattersoo, promptly nicknamed "Batterson" hy the Indian press and public, was a nightmare for Indian batsmen io most matches.

"It is a much better sight leaving Iodia this way than at the time we came," Richards said. We are going back a much more halaoced and experieoced

The series always threatened to erupt ioto a no-bolds barred cootest with both teams wanting to wio at any cost. In the event. the games were marred by unsporting behaviour by players against umpiring decisions that went against them.

In the very first nne-day international at Nagpur, a cootroversial umpiriog decisino over a catch taken hy Richards sent Indian skipper Dlip Vengsarkar into a rage.

Umpire Rajeo Mehra gave Vengsarkar out nnly after Riebards threw the ball dnwn in disgust, kicked it and walked towards him gesticulating.

The players, who had been told it was an unofficial match, played casually. But the press, the ticket-buying public and the advertisers at the stadium were kept in the dark and were told the match was nfficial.

It was felt that the Iodian cricket board did this to ensure crowds for the match and mnoey for the cricket association of western Gujarat state.

Talking about the present championship, Jahangir said that all the participants were pleased with the organisation of the event. He praised the organisers for doing such a marvellous Jahangir made particular mention of Interior Minister Sheikh Salem Al Sabah and the president of the Kuwait Squash Federation Sheikh Fabd Al Saad, who have taken personally, interest in this event and are making all-out efforts to ensure national Squash Federation. Ronnie Sinclair, said that he had been amazed by the excellent organisation at these championships. He said that he had been particularly impressed by the arrangements at the Al Arabi Cluh.

Sinclair added that the accommodation provided to the delegations, the transport and all the other facilities made availahle to the teams had been excellent. He said that he had been convinced of Kuwait's ability to organise international

Report Sinclair said that he would comment on this excellent organisation in his report to the International Squash Federation. The international federation chief, talking about the high standard of the Pakistani squad, said that countries like New Zealand and Australia were try-ing to catch them up. He added that Pakistan's standard should be an examaple to others, wbo should try to improve their game.

Sinclair appreciated the Kuwaiti step of appointing Pakistani coaches for the national team to improve their standard. He said that these coaches, most of them top players of their era, would certainly help in taking the squash game in Kuwait to a new

Fenech to fight Callejas for vacant WBC crown

SYDNEY, Jan 27, (Reuler): Australian Jeff Fenech will challenge Victor Callejas of Puerto Rico for the World Boxing Council featherweight title in Sydney in March. Fenech has vacated his WBC super-hantamweight title in order to fight Callejas on March 7. promoter Bill Mordey said today.

Important

Fenech was named as the WBC's number one featherweight after the world title was relinquished earlier today by Azumah Nelson of Ghana, Mordey said.
"It's very important for me to win three titles because it will be my toughest task and Callejas will also be my toughest opponent," said Fenech, a former holder of the International Boxing Federation bantamweight title. Fenech is unbeaten in 19 professional fights.

The 27-year-old Calicias has lost only one bout in his nine-year career. He was beaten in his first professional contest in 1979 but won the next 23, stopping 20 opponents by knockout.

He was unbeaten as World Boxing Association super-bantamweight champion but lost his title a year ago when he was unahle of a managerial dispute.
